

Are you a UD alum?

If so, please consider becoming a contact in the Alumni Career Network!

The University of Dayton's Alumni Career Network is designed as a method for alumni to share their career achievements with students and alumni who have similar academic backgrounds and interests. With the online network, students and alumni can quickly and easily obtain information on alumni who have indicated they are willing to help with career-related issues. The network is searchable by geographic region, job title, and college major. The information -- accessible only to UD students, alumni, faculty, and staff members -- can also help alumni and students who are looking for new or different jobs.
